DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

EDITORIAL

The Department of English takes immense pleasure and pride in publishing the newsletter for this semester. This edition covers all the departmental activities such as the Guest Lecture, World Indigenous Day, IKS, Domain-Based Workshop, and the International Conference, and also highlights the staff achievements as well as students' accomplishments.

- Ms. Gayathri N

HOD'S MESSAGE

Welcome to the English Departments newsletter. The goal of this bi-annual newsletter is to provide information that may be of interest to our graduates. I feel proud and happy at the accomplishments of the students and staff. Our goals in teaching are to enable our students to read well, write and think well and to provide them with appropriate knowledge in the discipline of English Language. Our Students had the opportunity to participate in many activities. The department of English conducted the Intercollegiate Competition wherein more than 10 colleges participated. The highlight of the odd semester was our International Conference on Post human perspectives which paved the way to a holistic research tradition, encouraging research scholars from far and wide to be involved in a productive discourse. We are proud to be associated with Lang Lit which is an international, refereed, indexed, peer-reviewed and open access journal published quarterly from Latur, Maharashtra. Dr. Prashant Mothe is the editor-in-chief and publisher of the journal. We had 101 registrations in total, including 68 paper presenters online and 15 paper presenters offline. The other usual activities were guest lectures, literary club programs. The Department of English (Shift I) organized a two-day seminar under the Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS) initiative, titled "The Silent Witness and the Still Mind: Conscience and Inner Awareness in South Indian Yoga and Vedanta Traditions," held on 28th and 30th July 2025. Sqn Ldr Unni Nair, Chief Facilitator – Excel Group, and Ms. Srividya Ramasamy, Company Secretary and Regulatory Experts were the chief guests for the event. The department aims to enable the learner to use English effectively across the curriculum and also beyond that. Hoping for yet another prosperous semester in 2025-2026

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

The Department of English is delighted to report the successful conduct of the One-Day Hybrid International Conference on "Posthuman Perspectives: An Exploration in Literature & Beyond", held at Shri Shankarlal Sundarbai Shasun Jain College for Women. The conference witnessed an overwhelming response, with a total of 101 registrations, comprising 68 online and 15 offline paper presentations. We are proud to announce that 55 research papers from the conference have been published in collaboration with LangLit, an international refereed, indexed, peer-reviewed, open-access journal published quarterly from Latur, Maharashtra. This achievement stands as a testament to the academic rigor and research enthusiasm of all participants. The conference was enriched by the insightful keynote addresses delivered by Prof. Dr. Rania Lampou, Dr. Supala Pandiarajan, and Dr. Sumathi Shiva Kumar, whose expertise provided valuable perspectives on the evolving domain of posthuman studies. The Best Paper Presentation Awards were conferred upon Mr. Adarsh John and Ms. R. P. Josmani Joan for their exemplary research contributions. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to all participants and presenters for their enthusiastic involvement, which played a pivotal role in making the conference a remarkable success.

THE LEAFLET

GUEST LECTURE

The IQAC and the Department of English (Shift I) organised a Guest Lecture on “Emotional Intelligence and Effective Communication at the Workplace” on 15 July 2025, delivered by Dr. Irudhayaraj M, Head of Human Resources at ZF Hero Chassis Ltd., Chennai. The session provided students with key insights into workplace communication, emotional regulation, and professional etiquette. With 65 students participating, the event encouraged active engagement, helping them overcome hesitation and share their experiences confidently.

IKS SEMINAR

A two-day IKS seminar on “The Silent Witness and the Still Mind: Conscience and Inner Awareness in South Indian Yoga and Vedanta Traditions” was held on 28th and 30th July 2025, with 75 students participating. Sqn Ldr Unni Nair and Ms. Srividhya Ramasamy served as chief guests, offering profound insights into self-awareness and Vedantic philosophy. The sessions encouraged reflection and meaningful dialogue, helping students connect ancient Indian wisdom with contemporary life. The seminar was impactful in promoting awareness of Indian Knowledge Systems among the student community.

THE INTERNATIONAL DAY OF THE WORLD’S INDIGENEOUS PEOPLE

The IQAC and the Department of English (Shift I) organized a series of events to mark World Indigenous Day, featuring a Photo Essay Competition, a Tribal Face Painting Competition, and PPT presentations on various tribal groups. Thirteen students participated in the presentations, offering insightful explorations of diverse Indigenous communities, while forty students took part in the face painting competition, creatively depicting tribal art and traditions. The celebration was further enriched by lectures delivered by Ms. P. Harini Sha and Ms. Ramya Vijayaraghavan, whose perspectives on Indigenous life and heritage added depth to the event, making it both educational and engaging.

THREE-DAY DOMAIN BASED WORKSHOP

The IQAC and the Department of English (Shift I) organised a Guest Lecture on “Emotional Intelligence and Effective Communication at the Workplace” on 15 July 2025, delivered by Dr. Irudhayaraj M, Head of Human Resources at ZF Hero Chassis Ltd., Chennai. The session provided students with key insights into workplace communication, emotional regulation, and professional etiquette. With 65 students participating, the event encouraged active engagement, helping them overcome hesitation and share their experiences confidently.

STUDENTS' CORNER

“A BROTHER UNLIKE ANY OTHER ”

The one who encouraged me when no one else did,
The one who understood and supported me through it.
From strangers to siblings, our bond has grown,
Across the ocean we've crossed, where our love has been sown.

A love once unspoken, always felt so near,
When our hearts sank, it was clear.

Forever my love for you will remain,
Tied to you tightly, like an unbreakable chain.
"I never had a brother, but God sent you my way,
In your presence, a sibling's love came to stay."

"When I gaze into your eyes, a spark lights inside,
A confidence rises, ready to face life with pride."
"I pray for your success, in all that you do,
Through every trial, I'll be your pillar, steadfast and true."

"I'll shower you with love, and drive you insane,
But know this, my bond with you will always remain."

"I hope our bond grows stronger, with each passing day,
As we gather memories that will never fade away.
May we always stand by, with love as our guide,
A brother and sister, forever side by side."

WITH KRISHNA — MY HEART FINDS HOME

You are my strength and confidence,
the writer of my destiny,
standing behind every success and failure—
your smile receiving your devotees with childlike warmth.

When I had no shoulder to cry on,
your temple became my safe place—
where I knelt down, let tears fall,
and felt no judgement,
only comfort and knowledge.

Your flute heals every sorrow,
like a peacock feather on a deep wound.
Even when your decisions disappoint me,
within minutes you show me
There is a reason behind it.

You give me hardships and tasks,
but also courage and miracles—
guiding me with warrior strength,
sharing wisdom, love,
and care for every devotee.

I cherish every temple visit.
My wish is to stay with you always,
feel your gaze like golden sunlight,
live in your grace,
and remain your devoted soul forever.
